FOREWORD

I feel extremely happy that the New Catalogous Catalogorum, (NCC) the famous Indological project assigned to and carried out at the University of Madras is nearing completion. Herewith, I am delighted to present another four volumes of NCC (XXXIII-XXXVI) before the Indologists of the world in addition to seven volumes already published last year. During last 10 years, we have seen 22 volumes of New Catalogous Catalogorum being published in addition to 14 volumes published from 1935 to 2000. It is also worth mentioning that NCC has been the best seller of our Publication Division and almost all the copies have been sold out. Being a monumental work containing references of varied subjects, it has been the store house of ancient Indian wisdom. Works on almost all Indological subjects including Alankara, Vyakarana, Linguistics, Philosophy and Jyotisa are largely covered in these volumes and they cater to the needs of providing basic references to the research works in Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit, bringing out the hidden treasures to the fore and aiding to our existing knowledge in ancient Indian History and Culture.

The University is proud to have such a project, which is not only nationally, but also internationally acclaimed. Considering its importance, the Indologists from India and abroad are extending required support to this project by sharing their views and experiences and data which they have collected for their individual research projects. The credit of achieving such an enviable goal by giving his enormous time for preparing these volumes goes to Professor Siniruddha Dash, the Director of the project and the Chief Editor of the volumes, who is the prime source of inspiration for the team that has undertaken such a herculean task. I have little doubt that the publication of all the NCC volumes will be the landmark achievement in the history of the publication division of the University of Madras.

I take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank the team of NCC working under the dynamic leadership of Prof. Siniruddha Dash, for their relentless work and yeomen service to the University as well as to the world of Indological research. In spite of encountering financial, administrative and such other problems, they have been able to bring out all these 22 volumes which deserve our hearty appreciation. I would also like to thank those who have helped and encouraged the project directly and/or indirectly for its completion. .

I extend my sincere thanks to National Mission for Manuscripts (NMM), Ministry of Culture, Government of India for extending their financial aid for completion of this Project. Our Thanks are also due to the Government of Tamil Nadu and University Grants Commission for their valuable support.

(R.Thandavan)

PREFACE

The Volume XXXIV begins with the entry Śāla and ends with Śīrṣopaniṣad. Important entries like Śālagrāma, which represents a long history of Indian tradition for worshiping ammonite stone in every household finds its place in this volume. The word Śālagrāma is also very often used as Śāligrāma. The entry titled 'Śālagrāma' and its related entries are enlisted. The Śālihotra is entered both as a text and an author. As a text it is known as Aśvāyurveda or Siddhayogasāra-saṅgraha. It is followed by its bhāṣya and other commentaries. Śālihotra as an author is identified as the son of Aśvaghoṣa and father of Śuśruta. Śālikanātha and Śālibhadra are other important Jain authors that find place in this volume.

Śāstrmantra refers to the mantras of god Śāstr, who is otherwise known as Śāstā (Lord Aiyappan). He is worshiped at Sabarimalai in south-India as the son of Hari and Hara. The number of works beginning with Śāstr speak of the popularity of the God. Śāstradīpikā of Pārthasārathi Miśra an elaborate epitome on Pūrvamīmāṃsā of Jaiminī is entered with its different commentaries like Prabhā and Mayūkhamālikā. Śikṣā texts of different schools like Pāṇinīya Śikṣā and Nārādīya Śikṣā are entered here. Entries like Śikṣācatuṣṭaya, Śikṣātraya, Śikṣāpatra (book of instructions) are given separately. Śikṣāsamuccaya on phonetics in 100 vv. given in general. Apart from that Śikṣāsamuccaya of Buddhist teachings by Śāntideva and Dharmapāla are given differently.

Śikṣopaniṣad with its commentaries also find place. The problem of entering Śitikaṇṭha arises due to its alternative titles of Śrīkaṇṭha and Ānandarājānaka. This volume also covers works on Śilpāśāstra. The authorship of Śiva is a matter of great confusion. Since the identity of Śiva is not clear, we have classified and entered these under unspecified and specified categories. There are many works beginning with Śiva. Most important among them are Śivakavaca, Sivatatvaratnākara, Śivatāṇḍavatantra and Śivatāṇḍavastotra. Śivapurāṇa as a part of Brahmottarakhaṇḍa of Skandapurāṇa is separated from the unspecified Śivapurāṇa. Other important works connected with Śiva are Śivanāmastotra, Śivapañcākṣaramantra, Śivagītā and Śivapūjā. It may be noted that Śivagītā has a number of commentaries which are recorded under the text.

Philosophical works like Śivajñānabodha, Śivatattvabodha, Śivatattvasudhānidhi are also entered in this volume. Authors like Śivadatta, Śivadāśa, Śivadeva, Śivadaivajña are noted with their identity. Āgama texts like Śivapratīṣṭhāpaddhati, Śivabhaktamāhātmya, Śivabhaktikalpalatikā, Śivabhujāṅgaprayāstotra, Śivamahimnastotra, Śivayogapradīpikā, Śivarahasya, Śivarātrikathā, Śivarātrimāhātmya, Śivarātrivrata, Śivarātrivratākathā, Śivarātrivratamāhātmya, Śivarāma, Śivasamhitā, Śivasahasranāma, Śivasūtra are recorded with their resources.

The work Śivastotra by different authors and from different sources are enlisted here. This volume includes entries like Śivasvāmin, Śivādvaita, Śivānanda, Śivānandalaharī, Śivālikhita or Muhūrtamālikā (jyotiṣa work), Śivodaya (Yamakakāvya), Śivopaniṣad or Atharvaśīrṣopaniṣad or Śivātharvaśīrṣopaniṣad, Śivāṣṭaka, Śivāṣṭamūrtitattvaparakāśa, Śivāṣṭottarakalpalatikā, Śivāṣṭottara, Śivāṣṭottaraśatanāmastotra, Śivāṣṭottaraśatanāmāvali. Śīsupālavadhā (one of the five Mahākāvyas) and its commentaries are found a place here. Entries like Śīghrabodha, Śītalajinastuti, Śītalāṣṭaka, Śītalāstotra are entered last in this volume.

I take this opportunity to thank the University of Madras especially our beloved Vice-Chancellor, Professor R. Thandavan, because of whose keen interest these volumes could be published. My special thanks are due to the Registrar, University of Madras for his kind cooperation and timely action.

I feel happy to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. M. Sakthivel, Former Director and Prof. Godavarisha Mishra, Present Director of Publication Division, University of Madras for making it possible to publish these volumes. Needless to say that it is the National Mission for Manuscripts (NMM), Ministry of Culture, Government of India, which facilitated financial support to complete the work and also University Grant Commission (UGC) for its support for publication. I put on record my indebtedness to both these organizations.

I offer my hearty thanks to my friends and scholars, interested in this work, for their continuous moral support.

Last but not the least I express my thanks to the staff both teaching and non-teaching of the Department of Sanskrit and Staff of the Central Office, O.R.I. Marina Campus and Finance Section of the University of Madras for their kind cooperation.

Words fail adequately to thank my team of scholars who are working in the New Catalogus Catalogorum (NCC) Project under the NMM grant and who have given their best for the completion of these volumes.

About NCC:

The New Catalogus Catalogorum (NCC) is a unique Catalogue containing information, mainly of unpublished manuscripts as well as published books prepared out of the data culled out from around 1500 published catalogues and 200 hand-lists, collected from famous National and International Libraries and Research Institutes. The work is encyclopedic in nature and gives detailed information such as name of catalogues and bibliographical references about available texts written in Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit in ancient India and that of authors who have contributed to these subjects.

The NCC Project was started in the year 1935 at the University of Madras with Professor S. Kuppuswami Sastri as the Chief Editor. The first volume was published in the year 1949 with Professor Kunhan Raja as the Editor-in-Chief and he was actively assisted by Professor V. Raghavan. The NCC project work went on continuously with grant received from Central and State Govts., and fourteen volumes (Vol. I - XIV) were published till the year 2000. In the year 2000, with Professor Dash taking up the mantle of NCC, and with the substantial financial Assistance from National Mission for Manuscripts (NMM), Ministry of Culture, Govt. of India, the project work was expedited. The NMM has sanctioned 75 lakhs for the project during the 10th plan period and eleven volumes (XV-XXV) have been brought out during 2007 and 2011. Being satisfied by the progress of the project work and the publication of volumes, the NMM sanctioned a further grant of 2 crores during 11th plan period for the continuance of the work and another eleven volumes (XXVI-XXXVI) are published which is definitely a land-mark achievement and a substantial contribution to the world of Indological research. Another three volumes: XXXVII-XXXIX, already submitted, are in the pipeline and expected to come out very shortly.

Chief-Editor:

Professor Siniruddha Dash, the Chief Editor of the NCC from 2000 till date is a well-known scholar in the field of Sanskrit grammar as well as Ancient and Modern Linguistics. He obtained M.A. & Ph.D. in Sanskrit from Centre for Advanced Study in Sanskrit, University of Pune with Professor S.D. Joshi and Professor Probal Dasgupta as his Ph.D. supervisors. He got another Ph.D. in Linguistics from Postgraduate & Research Institute, Deccan College, Pune with the supervision of Professor Nilamadhyav Sen. After a brief stint at the Sanskrit Dictionary Project of Deccan College, Pune, as a sub-editor, he joined as a Reader in the Dept. of Sanskrit, University of Madras in 1987 where he became a Professor in the year 1993 and subsequently the Head of the Department of Sanskrit from the year 2000. With the financial support of National Mission for Manuscripts, Ministry of Culture, Govt. of India, he revived the NCC, which is the only source of getting substantial information on Indological subjects mainly in Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit. He has worked in many important positions like Members in academic bodies like, Syndicate, University of Madras, Empowered Committee of the National Mission for Manuscripts, New Delhi (2003-2012), Board of Management of Rashtriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha, Tirupati, National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), Sanskrit Advisory Board of Central Sahitya Akademi to name a few. At present, he is the Honorary Director of Prof. K.V. Sarma Research Foundation, Chennai. His important publications include (1) Syntax and Semantics of Sanskrit Nominal Compounds (2) New Lights on Manuscriptology (3) Facets of Indian Astronomy besides twenty-five volumes of New Catalogus Catalogorum.
